Why Participate?

digitalNow is where the most innovative association executives come together to explore how advancing technologies can help further their missions. Our goal is to partner with companies who can help these executives make the changes within their associations that the digitalNow content encourages. With over 300 forward-thinking association executives, digitalNow invites sponsors who are eager to partner with associations to help them make an impact.

Full Immersion & Networking

Dedicated networking time with sponsors will be worked in throughout the conference each day to ensure increased visibility and interaction with attendees. Sponsors will also have the opportunity to connect with attendees during meals, which will be served in the exhibitor space.
